JNL Forests - Visitor Management.

Juken New Zealand Ltd (JNL) is committed to responsible visitor management to ensure that we are meeting stakeholder needs and expectations while complying with relevant legislation, and internal policies and procedures to ensure visitors are managed in a way that protects other JNL workers, contractors, the land, property, and themselves.

JNL allows visitors into the forest for a number of commercial and non-commercial activities. Visitors to the forest must abide by the conditions set out with an access permit, and any other conditions stipulated by JNL. Access will always include such conditions and JNL reserves the right to revoke access indefinitely if those conditions are broken or conditions change. Visitors have a responsibility to follow all conditions set out in their access agreements.

To enquire about a forest access permit, contact your local JNL office through the JNL website (Our Forests - Juken New Zealand, Forest Operations or Enquire page)

JNL will manage visitors to the forest in accordance with:

- Regional and District plans
- JNL's Health, Safety and Environment Management Systems
- JNL's Forestry Key & Permit access system
